Laws of the United States.

Passed at the Second Session of the Thirty seventh Congress.

[PUBLIC ACT No. [illegible]]

An Act to incorporate the Washington and Georgetown Railroad Company.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That [illegible] Klagman, Franklin [illegible], [illegible], Sayles J. [illegible], [illegible] H. Upton, Henry A. [illegible], [illegible] and their associates and assigns [illegible] they are hereby created a body corporate, under the name of the Washington and Georgetown Railroad Company [illegible] with [illegible] turnouts in the cities of Georgetown and Washington, in the District of Columbia, [illegible] Bridge street at the intersection with High street [illegible] said Bridge street [illegible] east thereof in the city of Georgetown [illegible] said Bridge street to its intersection with the street [illegible] over Rock creek to Pennsylvania avenue [illegible] along said avenue to Fifteenth street [illegible] thence around the southern boundary of the Capitol grounds, and along their southern boundary [illegible] Pennsylvania avenue [illegible] said Pennsylvania avenue to Eighth street [illegible] the northern gate [illegible] street to the depot of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad [illegible] Pennsylvania avenue [illegible] a double or single track branch railway commencing at Boundary street [illegible] Pennsylvania avenue [illegible] also a railway commencing [illegible] Boundary street [illegible] Pennsylvania avenue [illegible] the terminus [illegible] of the said main railway [illegible] or between the terminus [illegible] branch railways [illegible] and the [illegible] shall be subject to the municipal regulations of the cities of Washington and Georgetown respectively, within their [illegible] limits, and that whenever the Capitol grounds shall be enlarged then the said routes shall be made to conform thereto.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That said roads shall be deemed real estate, and they, together with other real property and the personal property of said body corporate shall be liable to taxation as other real estate and personal property in the cities aforesaid, except as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That the said railway shall be laid in the centre of the avenues and streets, as near as may be, without interfering with or passing over the water or gas pipes, in the most approved manner adapted for street railways with rails of the most approved pattern, to be determined by the Secretary of the Interior, laid [illegible] even surface with the pavement of the street, and the space between the two tracks shall not be less than four feet nor more than six feet and the carriages shall not be less than six feet in width, the gauge to correspond with that of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That the said corporation hereby created shall be bound to keep said tracks, and for the space of [illegible] feet beyond the outer rail thereof, and also the space between the tracks at all times well paved and in good order, without expense to the United States or to the cities of Georgetown and Washington.

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, That nothing in this act shall prevent the Government at any time at their option, from altering the grade or otherwise improving Pennsylvania avenue and such other avenues and streets as may be occupied by said roads or the cities of Washington and Georgetown from so altering and improving such streets and avenues as may be under their respective authority and control, and in such event it shall be the duty of said company to change their said railroad so as to conform to such altered grade and pavements.

SEC. 6. And be it further enacted, That this act may at any time be altered, amended, or repealed by the Congress of the United States.

SEC. 7. And be it further enacted, That nothing in this act shall be so construed as to authorize said body corporate to issue any note, token, device, scrip or other evidence of debt to be used as a currency.

SEC. 8. And be it further enacted, That the capital stock of said company shall not be less than three nor more than five hundred thousand dollars, and that the stock shall be divided into shares of fifty dollars each, and shall be deemed personal property, transferable in such manner as the by-laws and company may direct.

SEC. 9. And be it further enacted, That the said company shall place first-class cars on said railways, with all the modern improvements for the convenience and comfort of passengers, and shall run cars thereon during the day as often as every five minutes, except as to Seventh and Fourteenth streets, and on these, once in fifteen minutes each way, and until twelve o'clock at night as often as every half hour, and throughout day and night as much oftener as public convenience may require.

SEC. 10. And be it further enacted, That said company shall procure such passenger rooms, ticket offices, stables and depots at such points as the business of the railroad and the convenience of the public may require. And the said company is hereby authorized to lay such rails through traverse or other streets as may be necessary for the exclusive purpose of connecting the said stables and depots with the main tracks. And the said company is hereby authorized to purchase or lease such lands or buildings as may be necessary for the passenger rooms, ticket offices, stables and depots above mentioned.

SEC. 11. And be it further enacted, That all articles of value that may be inadvertently left in any of the cars or other vehicles of the said company shall be taken to their principal depot and entered in a book of record of unclaimed goods, which book shall be open to the inspection of the public at all reasonable hours of business.

SEC. 12. And be it further enacted, That said corporation shall, on demand of the President of the United States, Secretary of War, or Secretary of the Navy, cause to be transported over said railway any freight, [illegible] with [illegible] for the use of the United States [illegible] shall pay a reasonable compensation therefor.

SEC. 13. And be it further enacted, That within five days after the passage of this act the corporators named in the first section, or a majority of them [illegible] shall cause books of subscription to the capital stock of said company to be opened and kept open [illegible] and a suitable place in the city of Washington [illegible] for a period to be fixed by said corporators, not less than two days, and said corporators shall give public notice, by advertisement in the daily papers published in the city of Washington, of the time when and the place where said books shall be opened [illegible] upon said books to the capital stock of the company shall be held [illegible] stockholders: Provided, That every subscriber shall pay at the time of subscribing twenty-five per centum of the amount by him subscribed [illegible] the treasurer appointed by the corporators [illegible]. If at the end of [illegible] days a larger amount than the capital stock of said company shall have been subscribed, the books shall be closed and the corporators named in the first section shall forthwith proceed to apportion said capital stock among the subscribers [illegible] and make public proclamation of the number of shares [illegible] Provided further, That nothing shall be received in payment of the [illegible] five per centum at the time of subscribing except money [illegible] certificates of deposits [illegible] President or cashier of some good [illegible] bank or banks. And when the books of subscription [illegible] capital stock of said company shall be closed [illegible] named in the first section [illegible] within twenty days thereafter [illegible] first meeting of the stockholders [illegible] directors [illegible] notice shall be given for five days [illegible] newspapers published in the city of Washington [illegible] each stockholder [illegible] and in all meetings of the stockholders each share shall entitle the holder to one vote, to be given in person or by proxy.

SEC. 14. And be it further enacted, That the government and direction of the affairs of the company shall be vested in a board of directors [illegible] in number [illegible] who shall hold their office for one year [illegible] until others are duly elected and qualified to take their places [illegible] and the said directors [illegible] president [illegible] of the company [illegible] faithful discharge of his trust [illegible] vacancy in the board of directors by death, resignation or otherwise of any director, the vacancy [illegible] shall be filled by the remaining directors.

SEC. 15. And be it further enacted, That the directors shall have full power to make and prescribe such by-laws, rules and regulations, as they shall deem needful and proper touching the disposition and management of the stock, property, estate and effects of the company, not contrary to the charter or to the laws of the United States and the ordinances of the cities of Washington and Georgetown.

SEC. 16. And be it further enacted, That there shall be an annual meeting of the stockholders for the choice of directors to be holden at such time and place, under such conditions and upon such notice as the said company in their by-laws may prescribe, and the said directors shall annually make a report in writing of their doings [illegible] and to Congress.

SEC. 17. And be it further enacted, That the Mayors, Common Council and the several officers of the Corporations of the cities of Georgetown and Washington, and the said Corporations, are hereby prohibited from doing any act or thing to hinder, delay, or obstruct the construction or operation of said railroad as herein authorized.

SEC. 18. And be it further enacted, That the said company shall have at all times the free and uninterrupted use of their road way, and if any person or persons shall willfully and maliciously obstruct or impede the passage on or over said railway, or any part thereof, or or shall injure or destroy the cars, depots, stations or any property belonging to said railroad company, the person or persons so offending shall forfeit and pay for every such offense the sum of five dollars to said company, and shall remain liable, in addition to the penalty, for any loss or damage occasioned by his [illegible] act aforesaid; but no suit shall be brought unless commenced within sixty days after such offence shall have been committed.

SEC. 19. And be it further enacted, That unless said corporation shall [illegible] their said railways between the Capitol and Georgetown within sixty working days from and after the company shall have been organized and from the Capitol to the Navy Yard within sixty days thereafter, and on said Seventh street to the point of intersection as aforesaid within six months from the approval of this act, then this act shall not be null and void and no rights whatever shall be acquired under it.

SEC. 20. And be it further enacted, That all acts and parts of acts heretofore passed, which are inconsistent with any of the provisions of this act, are, for the purpose of this act, hereby repealed, so far as the same are inconsistent therewith.

[Approved, May 17, 1862.

The C[illegible] [illegible] State [illegible] is [illegible] the "shepherds" in the United States army. One chaplain is reported to have "preached but twice since he entered the regiment." Another took no notice of the privates, "but was very attentive to the officers." A third "played cards regularly every day, had preached but once, and then to a little squad, a portion of whom played cards during the service!" Many of the soldiers seemed astonished when they were informed, on a certain occasion that it was Sunday—remarking that they did not know they ever had any Sunday in their regiment.

COMMANDER OF THE RAM ARKANSAS.—J N, Brown, commander of the rebel ram Arkansas, was formerly a Lieutenant in the Federal Navy, but was permitted like others to join his friends in the South. He returned home in the frigate Niagara, and proclaimed strong Secession sentiments, which so incensed a large class of citizens in Boston, that it was only through the intervention of the police that he escaped a mobbing at the head of State street. He has made good his declaration of his purpose to return to his native State and fight under the Confederate flag. His race has, however, gone under.

FREAKS OF LIGHTNING.—The lightning on Monday morning struck the telegraph wire at Centreville, Alameda county, and, thus conducted, it passed through and shattered 8 poles, passing into the station at Centreville, where it blew up the magnet, and made a vault to the ground wire, over which it passed into the earth. The operator, who was sleeping, was awakened by two reports similar to the discharge of a musket. Such a phenomenon never before occurred in California.—Alta.

A big Swedish woman, complained of a man in San Francisco, for assault. One witness testified that she "kicked her husband on his finger with a stick."

Why is an editor like the book of Revelations? Because he is full of "types and shadows," and a mighty voice, like the sound of many waters, is ever saying to him Write.

First Old Woman—What does the minister say to our new burying ground?

Second Old Woman—He don't like it at all; he says he'll never be buried there as long as he lives!

First Old Woman—Well, if the Lord spares me, I will

"Going to leave us, Mary?"

"Yes, mum, I find I'm very discontented."

"If there is anything I can do to make you more comfortable, let me know"

"No, mum; it's impossible. You can't alter your figger, no mor'n I can appear on Sundays as I used to at my last place, where missus's clothes fitted me exactly. It's best we part!"

TUESDAY MORNING, SEPT. [illegible] 18[illegible]

THE SALMON RIVER MINES A FIZZLE.—We see it so stated in a San Francisco paper, and in Illinois paper which has just come to hand and we find in a letter from A. Leland in the Times, a remark indirectly to the same point. But the Salmon river mines have not fizzled out—all that has been said of them is literally true. They are still yielding large amounts of gold, and Wells, Fargo & Co. have sent down a million of dust to San Francisco [illegible] this season [illegible] private individuals have sent down half as much more, and the last steamer carried down to the same place $100,000 in dust while a large amount went down in the hands of passengers. Doubtless many persons who went to the mining region have been disappointed in not finding gold in abundance to meet their desire, but others more fortunate and more persevering have found it—and the very steamers which bring down disappointed miners bring down others who have bags of the dust.

Diggings have been found in many places yielding four and five dollars a day but these will not be worked while the present prices of prices rule. Miners can scarcely think of working when their pay only amounts to three and four dollars a day. Salmon river mines have yielded $50, $100, and even $1,000 a day to the hand, and they want to find rich diggings and they fly over the country, hurry scurry, pretending to prospect and finding nothing to suit them they raise the cry "The mines are played out."

But this is not the case, nor will they be played out in this generation. Mining in the upper country must become a steady employment—many mines to be controlled by capital—provisions, either by means of facilities for transportation from below, or production above, must become cheaper—men must be willing to spend a little time in labor as industry—and then a very large increase of the gold production will take place. We have no idea that a single year, as M. Leland intimates, will limit the working of the mines, and the public will regret that an individual who has been largely benefitted, in time past by raising an excitement in favor of the richness of the mines, should so soon change his exulting into dolorous notes. We apprehend that no more steam mills are to be trunked, or that the exceeding lightness of the air on the Salmon is affecting his spirits. Men seem to have different views under different circumstances.

We feel assured that the gold and silver mines east of us will furnish permanent employment for a population of twice the number now there. But business must become regular—miners must be satisfied with fair profits, and so must their employees, and merchants must also sell their goods at prices that miners and others can afford to pay for them.—The population in the mines will not be less ere another year. The transportation business on the Columbia will greatly increase, securing cheaper transportation, which will in turn greatly enlarge the market for Oregon farmers. Our course, though birds of ill omen may be about, is still onward.

HUMAN REMAINS FOUND.—Mr. A. F. Hogg, coroner of Wasco county, writes to the Mountaineer that the remains of a man, supposed to have perished last winter were found about twenty five miles above the mouth of the Des Chutes river, on the 26th ult. By fragments of paper found near by, it is supposed they are the remains of E. W. Quimby, of the firm of E. W. Quimby & Co., San Francisco. One hundred dollars were found near the remains.

"VERY PECULIAR."—It is a matter of some curiosity how [illegible] paper got telegraphic dispatches to the Daily Times via Yreka on Sunday last as appeared in yesterday morning's issue. We have the best of evidence for knowing that no special dispatches came by Express on that or the day previous. We guess "Billy" is on the blow again.

THE NEW MINES.—The new mines lately discovered beyond Florence, seem to be marvelously rich. A gentleman writes [illegible] that his claim will pay him from $60 to $100 per day. He had already taken out $700. Another man adjoining him had a claim that was paying $500 per day. He had taken out $1,500 clear of all expenses in five days. The party who writes the above we are well acquainted with and can vouch for his reliability.—Mountaineer.

During one of the late battles at Richmond a Union boy about fourteen years old brought in a rebel boy of his own age and asked at the quarters where this prisoner should be taken. On being told that he must be lodged at a certain place not far distant the little fellows walked off together with their arms folded [illegible] like [illegible] consulting how they should spend their next holiday.

Prentice says: "It is the exhortations and taunts of rebel women that have driven their husbands, sons, brothers into the South to fill rebel graves. If their own hands do not smell to them of blood, God must to pity have paralyzed their [illegible]."

The Southern Confederacy seems to be losing its English backers. The London Times of the 18th of May calls the rebels the "Transatlantic [illegible]." What an unmerciful [illegible] out!

I do not [illegible] there is much of the immigration behind as they would not travel on the other side unless in large parties. The party across Snake River [illegible] and what have [illegible] will pass [illegible] on this side will make a total of about [illegible] hundred, but at least one half of whom are men. We have had four or five days of very warm weather—one day the thermometer was 104° in the shade at [illegible] p. m. The Indians have any amount of stock on the north side of the river which they have stolen from the Stage Company and the immigrants. [illegible] the immigrants we were coming about the time we left Walla Walla. Government will have to establish a post here before anything can be done with them [illegible] to make it safe to travel through here.

McClellan's late Movement

It is pretty well understood that the original plan of McClellan's campaign was that McDowell should move down between Richmond and the head of the York peninsula, thereby shutting in a large portion of the Confederate force [illegible] McClellan were to attack simultaneously and capture. This plan failed for reasons well understood—the Confederates were largely reinforced, and what was the result? It left the Federal forces operating in double and disconnecting lines, namely that of McDowell (afterwards commanded by Pope) and that of McClellan, while the Confederates occupied an interior line between them, namely, at Richmond, with a force superior to either.

Says Halleck, on his Elements of Military Art and Science, at page 40:

A line of operations embraces that portion of the theatre of war which an army or corps d'armee passes over in attaining its object.

When an army acts as a single mass, without forming independent corps, the line it follows is denominated a single line of operations.

If two or more corps act in an isolated manner, but against the same opposing force, they are said to follow double or multiple lines.

Interior lines of operations are those followed by an army which operates between the enemies' lines in such a way as to be able to concentrate his forces on one of those lines before the other can be brought to its assistance.

This was precisely the position in which the opposing forces were left by the failure of McClellan's campaign when his plans were interfered with. The following diagram will explain it:

POPE'S ARMY

Richmond

McCLELLAN'S ARMY

The Federal forces then occupied exterior lines, while the enemy at Richmond occupied an interior line and could attack either Pope or McClellan with a superior force. How had this been remedied? McClellan has marched north by the dotted line, joined Pope, and the Federal army now occupies a single line, on which it is superior in force to the enemy. Why is the movement pronounced so hazardous? Because the enemy marching out from Richmond could have attacked McClellan's army on its flank, while on the march, and under any less skillful General have defeated it. It is said that Gen. Halleck planned this movement, and, after reading his book, this can hardly be doubted. Something very similar to this took place in the war with Mexico. The forces of the United States were advancing upon two exterior lines, Taylor's line by Buena Vista, and Scott's line from Vera Cruz, while Santa Anna occupied a single interior line between them. He was thus enabled to fight Gen. Taylor at Buena Vista and Gen. Scott at Cerro Gordo with the same army. The abandonment of Gen. Taylor's line as a line of operation, and the concentration of forces on Gen. Scott's line was therefore not a retreat, but only a substitution of a single line for a double line. It has its complete parallel in the recent movement of McClellan. The army has now a single line of operations upon which its whole force is concentrated and the late movement was not a retreat but a junction of the two corps of the army performed in the face of the enemy.—Bulletin.

BRECKINRIDGE vs. BRECKINRIDGE.—In the last number of the Danville Review the Rev. Dr. Breckinridge thus expresses his opinion of his nephew, John C. Breckinridge: "The conquest of his own native State by arms was one of the points of this atrocious scheme, to the defense of which the Kentucky Senator lent himself at Washington in his vehement opposition to the Federal Administration, and in the support of which on his return to that State in August 1861 the conspirator became a refugee, and the refugee a General in the army of traitors and the General an invader of the land to whose defense he owed every drop of his blood. His expulsion as a traitor to the nation from the Senate of the United States a few months later was the just and natural result. He has not even the poor excuse that he was loyal to Kentucky. He was a traitor to her also, and that with a treason aggravated almost beyond historic example and destitute of every pretext ever pleaded by traitor before."

PRESIDENT LINCOLN'S PROMISE.—Isaac N. Arnold, member of Congress from the Chicago district, says that he paid a visit to the President just before the adjournment of Congress, and remarked to him: "I am about to return to that people by whose votes you were placed in the Presidential chair. What shall I tell them?" Mr. Lincoln [illegible] time you [illegible] time has now come for you [illegible] Tell the people [illegible] I will not [illegible]

Metcalf with 900 cavalry and two companies of Tennessee infantry was attacked by Scott's rebel cavalry numbering 1,500 with two pieces of artillery at Big Hill, five miles from Richmond. Metcalf's force retreated to Richmond. Scott demanded the surrender of Richmond. Metcalf sent back word that if he wanted the town he must fight for it. [illegible] 000 [illegible] infantry then came up and Metcalf [illegible] Richmond, who [illegible] pursued the rebels [illegible] Rock Castle River. Nothing further [illegible] Metcalf. His loss in several skirmishes was fifty killed, wounded and missing. Scott's loss unknown.

THE WASHINGTON STATESMAN,

A WEEKLY NEWSPAPER,

Published at Walla Walla, W. T.,

BY N. NORTHROP AND R. R. REES.

Terms Invariably in Advance.

One year	$5 00
Six Months	2 50
Three Months	1 75

THE STATESMAN has reliable correspondents in all the mining regions of Oregon, and Washington Territory—Powder River, Salmon River, Oro Fino, Colville, and the Bitter Root and Deer Lodge Valleys, and its facilities for obtaining news from these localities, both through its correspondents and the expresses running from Walla Walla to these points, are superior to those of any other paper published in Oregon or Washington Territory.

The paper is the same size as the Weekly Oregonian, and its large circulation in all the mining regions above mentioned renders it, to merchants and others, an excellent advertising medium. aug5.4mdw

SEWING MACHINES

ARE UNEQUALLED BY ANY FOR

BEAUTY AND SIMPLICITY OF CONSTRUCTION

AND

Efficiency in Working.

A GOOD SEWING MACHINE

SHOULD BE WELL MADE, simple in its construction, and easily kept in order; should make a tight lock stitch, alike on both sides of the material, and should sew any kind of goods.

It should be able to use cotton thread, or silk directly from the spool, and to sew from coarse to fine, and to do any kind of work with rapidity and will do thin and thick without change. It should also be able to make the tension alike both on the under and upper thread, and it should have a straight needle, as curved ones are liable to break.

The needle should have perpendicular motion—this is absolutely necessary for heavy work.

It should be fitted with a binder, hem with a hemmer, should stitch, fell, run and gather, and should be always ready to work

It should be capable of using the same size thread on both sides of the work and of using different colored thread or silk above or below to correspond with any two colors of cloth to be united.

It should be able to make a long or short stitch, and to fasten off the seam and continue the sewing tightly at the first stitch; should run easily, and make but little noise

It should have a wheel feed, no others are in constant contact with the work.

It should not be liable to get out of order; neither should it require a screw-driver or wrench to set the needle

It should not be liable to soil the operator's dress.

It should not form a ridge on the under side, nor ravel

DR. BAKER'S

PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums, and vegetable oils and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known any, however delicate, to be injured by it in the least. I will ask those to ask the afflicted, who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases. If they are not satisfied with its healing properties the money will be cheerfully refunded by the agent where the medicine is for sale

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally and externally over the parts affected, and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison and heal the wound in a short time

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea externally and take a dose of it internally morning and night. It will not only cure the pain but will remove the cause of the disease

If you have the Dyspepsia and your food distresses your stomach after eating take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day

If you have the Diarrhoea or a relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea, and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely and you will soon relieve pain and the swelling will be reduced

If you have a severe tooth ache apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe gum at the same time, it will stop the pain instantly

If you have a pain in the Breast, Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe parts and take a dose at the same time

If a Mother has a caked breast apply the Panacea as hot as can be borne

If you feel chilly and feel as though you were going to have a fever take a dose of Panacea

If you have a wound, cut or galls upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea. It will take out all the inflammation and heal the sore in a short time

BRAN, SHORTS and MIDDLINGS for sale by H LAW

Make Home Attractive.

Many families, especially those living in towns and cities, are frequently troubled because their boys, who are verging on manhood, are beginning to frequent places of resort and dissipation. To discourage this, they read to them prosy homilies upon the dangers that beset them, and are grieved because they have no better effect. Then perhaps they scold and threaten, and are more grieved to find that they have made the matter worse instead of better.

There is another and a more effective way of procedure than that of homilies, or of threats. We all have a taste for the beautiful. God has imparted it to us for good and noble purposes, and yet through the machinations of the base it may be productive of evil instead of good. We like to visit and remain in places where the eye can find constant gratification for this taste. And those who have charge of resorts of pleasure and dissipation understand this fact thoroughly and act accordingly.— Hence we always find their places rich in adornments, even to luxuriousness. Money is freely lavished in fitting up saloons in the most expensive style, and it is never poorly expended so far as the pecuniary remuneration is concerned, for these places of resort and dissipation that are fitted up best always have the best patronage. These adornments always have an irresistable attraction for the young. They delight to stay where every object conspires to please the eye and charm the senses. Therefore, this taste for the beautiful, which should be gratified only to secure benefits for the young, is thus too frequently gratified for their ultimate ruin. Every parent should ask themselves how this can be avoided, and how these attractions can be overcome. They should inquire by what means they can best hinder their children from frequenting such resorts. And we dare say that when this question is fairly considered, there is no parent but what will conclude that the best means of enabling their children to withstand the temptation that beset them, is to make their own home attractive. To be sure you may think that you have not the means to bestow in securing such adornments as the resorts of pleasure possess. They are not needed.— Home can be rendered cheerful and pleasant though it be lowly. There is no family in Oregon, however limited their resources, but what can command the means of vieing in splendor the furnishment of these places of pleasure. So long as the grass continues to appear in the spring beneath our feet, so long can they possess a carpeting which the looms of Europe cannot rival. So long as the forests don their foliage, so long can they enjoy a canopy richer than that which the hand of genius ever wrought for regal worth. Home is not simply the house in which you live. It must have its surroundings and adornments. It must have its shady recesses, its neat lawns, its well cultivated gardens, and its shelter of foliage. When these surround the house, no matter whether it be the humble log cabin or not, if within that house the same taste is displayed that is in its surroundings, and then if there are only kind hearts and contented minds, that place is home, and it possess attractions which all the seductive arts of dissipation will in vain attempt to counteract. But if this home be cheerless and unadorned, if all the means acquired are bestowed in the one great channel of money-making, then those who have deprived themselves and their children of the gratification of their taste for the beautiful, may regret it when too late, and when those who are more wise and crafty have gratified that taste to their own pecuniary advantage and perhaps to the ruin of the victim. There is no retreat so invulnerable to the assaults of vice as home. Then let each one endeavor to make that spot one where youth will be pleased, its proper tastes gratified and strengthened, and then no influence can undo the charm it weaves.

Moths.

A correspondent of the London Field recommends tallow candles, (common,) done up in paper, and put in the sack or drawer with cloths, to prevent moths destroying the cloth.

REMARKS.—Nonsense. The moth-miller cares no more for a tallow candle than for the fifth wheel of a coach. Most of our insects are very hardy, caring little for wind or weather, and will "never die of aromatic pain." We once packed some small skins in the center of a cask of tobacco leaf and stems, but the miller went there, deposited her eggs, and the furs were ruined. This shows that they are not at all delicate, and care nothing for tobacco, camphor, or even tallow candles. Quite likely, some person had a tight closet where there happened to be a tallow candle, and the safety of the furs was imputed to some efficacy in the candle, rather than to the tightness of the closet. Expensive cedar closets are often constructed, with the idea that the rather pleasant odor of cedar is sufficiently disagreeable to the moth to keep him away from articles of clothing deposited there! This is a mistake. The strongest instinct prompts the miller to seek the means of perpetuating its kind, and no trifling impediment will prevent it.

But the preservation of furs, or articles of clothing, is perfectly simple, cheap and easy. Shake them well and tie them up in a cotton or linen bag, so that the miller cannot possibly enter, and the articles will not be injured, though the bag is hung in a woodhouse or garret.

This is cheaper than to build cedar closets, and better than to fill the bed-clothes and garments with the sickening odor of camphor, tobaco, or any other drug.—N. E. Farmer.

MCKENZIE ROAD OPENED.—We learn that the Mc Kenzie road is now opened the entire disance over the Cascades, and is now ready for wagons or pack trains. The road will yet have to be graded, in some places, before it will meet the requirements of the travel that will ultimately pass over it, but the timber has been cut out and the road is now one of the best mountain roads in the State. Mr Felix Scott, who did the principal part of the cutting out, had with him six large California freight wagons, each drawn by six yoke of oxen and carrying from fifty to sixty hundred each, which he succeeded in taking through without difficulty. They were last heard from at or near the Des Chutes. This should be sufficient evidence to those wishing to go through with wagons, that they can now do so.—State Republican.

San Francisco Fruit Market.

SAN FRANCISCO, AUGUST [illegible].

ED. OREGON FARMER.—The steamer Sierra Nevada arrived here on the 9th inst., bringing 65 boxes apples—the first shipment of the season from Oregon—which sold at 3½c.

This market is well supplied with fruit. Peaches and plums so plenty that they are selling at from 2c. to 5c. per lb. Apples are dull sale at 3c. to 5c. Bartlett pears and Dearborn seedlings 6c. to 8c. Other inferior varieties, 2c. to 4c. Grapes are just making their appearance—selling at 8c. to 12½c.

It is useless to send Oregon fruit to this market until the bulk of peaches and the soft fruits are out of the way, which will probably last a month longer.

Respectfully yours,
KNAPP, BURRELL & CO.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY'S Private Medical & Surgical Institute,

SACRAMENTO STREET, BELOW MONTGOMERY,
Opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Office, San Francisco.

ESTABLISHED IN 1854 FOR THE PERMANENT cure of all Chronic and Private Diseases, and the SUPPRESSION OF QUACKERY. Attending and Resident Physician, L. J. CZAPKAY, M. D., Late in the Hungarian Revolutionary War, Chief Physician to the 20th Regiment of Honveds, Chief Surgeon to the Military Hospital of Pesth, Hungary, and late Lecturer on Diseases of the Genito-Urinary Organs and Diseases of Women and Children, and Honorary Member of the Philadelphia College of Medicine.

☞ Particular attention paid to the treatment of diseases peculiar to Women and Children.

Office Hours from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

☞ Communications strictly confidential. Permanent cure guaranteed, or no pay. Consultations by letter or otherwise FREE.

Address, DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco.

Of all diseases, the first great cause,
Springs from neglect to Nature's laws.

To the Afflicted!

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret diseases, self-Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages, Strictures, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Ankles, diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Dropsy, Epileptic Fits, St. Vitus Dance, and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision, with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Disease, Eruptions upon the Face, Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities—and all improper discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment, even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians, and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines prescribed are pleasant without odor, entirely vegetable, causing no sickness and free from mercury or balsam. During fifteen years of practice in Europe, the Atlantic States and California, I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands, who in the last stages of the above-mentioned diseases had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted, who may place themselves under my care, a speedy and permanent cure. Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula and many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family. As a permanent cure is scarcely ever effected, a majority of the cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons, who not only fail to cure the disease, but ruin the constitution, filling the system with mercury, which, with the disease, hastens the sufferer into a rapid consumption. But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily, and the victim marries, the disease is entailed upon the children, who are born with feeble constitutions, and the current of life corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in scrofula, tetter, ulcers, eruptions and other affections of the skin, eyes, throat and lungs, entailing upon them a brief existence of suffering, and consigning them to an early grave.

Self abuse is another formidable enemy to health, for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system, drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering down to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system, rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, disqualifies for marriage, society, business, and all earthly happiness, and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself. With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of self-abuse, that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected, and with the abandonment of ruinous practices, my patients can be restored to robust, vigorous health.

Invalids and Parents of afflicted families treated on principles that [illegible] to all the treatment of [illegible] and which, under [illegible] thousands of the most remarkable cures.— Medicines with full directions sent to any part of the State, Oregon and Washington Territory, by patients communicating their symptoms by letter.

All business correspondence strictly confidential. Address DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, Medical Institute, Sacramento street, below Montgomery, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co's Office, San Francisco.

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief

Below we publish the certificates of three of the sufferers from the ranks of disease, who, having recovered their former health and happiness, gratefully make known their cases and the cure, and their statement are authenticated by a Notary Public. The demands of society impertinently demand their publicity, and we confirm their publication to [illegible] afflicted:

Gratitude. The undersigned, desirous of acquainting those who are similarly unfortunate enough to be similarly afflicted with a permanent relief from their sufferings may be obtained, to do it freely to this publicly express his most sincere gratitude to Dr. L. J. Czapkay for the permanent recovery of his health. Borne down by the distressing symptoms incident to the vicious practices of an uncontrollable passion in youth, depressed in body and mind, unable to perform even the most trifling duties imposed upon the ordinary avocations of life, I sought the advice of many physicians, who at first regarded my disease as of trifling importance, but alas! after a few weeks and in several instances months, of their treatment, I found to my unutterable horror that, instead of relief, my symptoms became more [illegible] entirely, and I [illegible] decidedly [illegible] and never thought you could be able to cure me perfectly, but thought you might be able to do something to ease the pain in my back and head, and relieve the weakness, so that I would not get excited and irritable at everything. Now that you know what I expected, you may judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery from those symptoms, and the removal of those ulcers and blotches from my skin, and the ulcers from my throat, and the entire stop to those emissions, which you told me were the principal cause of my sickness. I can hardly tell you which is the greatest, my joy or my surprise at my recovery, and having fully got my strength. I feel as well as any man can feel.

Enclosed I send you twenty dollars over your charge and thank myself cheaply cured. If you think anybody will be benefited you may put this letter in the newspapers. I remain gratefully yours,

THOMAS HAYDEN.

Thankfulness is the incentive of gratitude.

GENTLEMEN.—Prompted by an honest desire of my heart, I wish to lay before the public a case which deserves commendation, not only as a matter of scientific skill, but that of humanity also. About two years ago I suddenly, and from a cause unknown to me, was seized with a fit of epilepsy, which, owing to my inability to avail the expensive services spent upon a thorough medical treatment and the physician's agreement which I met with on attending, at soon became so that I was then led to be in vain to seek the skill of any physician. I was frequently, while in pursuit of my calling, thrown down to the ground without the slightest warning, and although insensible to the agonies, I yet could all the miseries of my life, and soon learned to look upon those who would render assistance or shelter me from danger as ones who sought to prolong the existence of my dissolution. While in this state, and having previous to my afflictions, tasted the sweets of life, I once more was induced to attempt seeking aid of a physician, and, by recommendation, called upon Dr. L. J. Czapkay. I told him of my circumstances, and of my inability to reward him for his services; regardless of which, however, he at once undertook my case, and with the blessing of God, I was once more restored to perfect health. Unable to reward him for the boon which I enjoy at present, and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I consider it due to myself and all afflicted, to make this case public, in order that those in need of medical advice may find a physician in whom every confidence can be placed.
